SELECTION

The recipient of the scholarship will be chosen by a selection committee of Alliance Française members. After initial screening of applications, the committee will interview the finalists on the afternoon of Saturday, March 3, at the AF Resource Center, Glen Echo Building, 2000 Glen Echo Road, Suite 109, in Nashville. The interviews will be conducted in both French and English. The selection of the 2011 Nina Walls Scholar will be made soon after the interviews.

A number of factors will be weighed in the selection process including, but not limited to, the following:

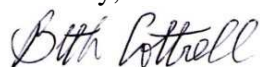

- level of French as evidenced in interview
- evidence of professional commitment
- future career plans in education
- need for an immersion experience in a francophone country

OTHER

The Alliance will ask the recipient of the 2012 Nina Walls Scholarship to present a program at the August cultural soirée, discussing experiences in Lyon and how those experiences will likely impact his/her teaching. (The soirée will be on Friday evening, August 31.)
